Through the instant petition, questions relating to collection and levy of taxes on “telecommunication services” after the Eighteenth Constitutional Amendment have been raised. The learned counsels have informed that other petitions wherein similar questions have been raised are pending before different Benches of this Court. It would, therefore, be appropriate that all such petitions are heard together to avoid conflicting judgments. The office is directed to prepare a report mentioning all petitions wherein similar questions have been raised and place before the Hon’ble Chief Justice for appropriate orders.
