In response to query of this Court, the learned counsel for the respondents has informed that a reference under section 196 of the Customs Act, 1969 has already been filed and fixed before a learned Division Bench for today.

2. The fate of the vehicle depends on the disposal of the reference. The instant petition is not maintainable because this Court cannot interfere with the proceedings relating to the reference.

3. The petition is, therefore, accordingly dismissed.
